

Separation and polarity properties of convex cones

Valeriu Soltan, George Mason University, Fairfax VA – 22030

Abstract

We refine a result of Klee on separation of closed convex cones in n dimensions and use it in the study of separation properties of a closed convex cone and its polar cone. As a consequence, we give an affirmative answer to an old problem of Stoker on cones.

Keywords: convex cone, polar cone, Stoker's problem.