

Helly-type results on support lines for disjoint families of unit disks

Valeriu Soltan, George Mason University, Fairfax VA – 22030

Abstract

We prove that a disjoint family of six or more unit circular disks in the plane has a common support line provided every its subfamily of three disks has a common support line.

Keywords: circular disk, support line.