GMU Department of Mathematics invites 7th-12th grade girls and their teachers for a fun-filled day trip to GMU to:

- learn about exciting careers in science & technology
- take part in a problem solving contest with certificates awarded to top 3 contestants in each grade level
- network with female peers, undergraduate, graduate students and faculty and participate in hands-on workshops throughout the day.

Free lunch and door prizes!

GMU SK Day is sponsored by the Association of Women in Mathematics and the Department of Mathematical Sciences of George Mason University.
