Fairfax County Math Program George Mason University

Details for how to apply, register and make payment.

For Registration purposes for Fall 2012:

Your 5 digit course reference number for Math 213-601 (Analytical Geometry & Calc III) is: 80985.
You will use this number when you register for your class.

Program Description

In our Fairfax County Math partnership program, Students take a sequence of courses—Multivariable Calculus and Linear Algebra—for half of the school year each. Students have the option to apply through George Mason University for dual-enrollment credit. Students are not required to register for the course through George Mason, but those who do see many benefits:

Receive college-level credit

Students who register for each section of the course receive three credits of college-level tuition each. That's a total of at least six university math credits by the time you graduate high school!

Substantially reduced tuition and fees

The cost per credit hour for in-state students at Mason is $392.50 per credit hour. That amounts to an equivalent Mason tuition of $1177.50 per class—not including course fees! Through the partnership program, tuition is $425 per class. That's a difference of over $725.50 for the same credits.

No additional transportation required

Courses are conveniently offered right at your high school in your classroom. You will not have to find transportation to campus.

Application fee waived

Undergraduate non-degree applicants must usually pay an application fee of $60, but through the partnership with Fairfax County Schools, your application fee is waived for this program.

How the process works:

Students must submit a completed application and request transcripts be delivered by Sept. 14, 2012 to receive an admission decision. The questions you must answer and the forms you must file are described in this guide.

After your application is complete, you'll receive an admission decision via postal mail. That admission decision will contain your G-number, which you'll need to create your student account.

Once you've created your account, you'll need to register for the course with the Course Registration Number (CRN) by Sept. 24, 2012, which will result in a charge appearing on your account. You must pay for the course by Sept. 24, 2012.

Once you've registered and paid, you're registered through Mason for dual enrollment credit, and the grade and credit you earn will result in Mason credit as well as credit for your high school diploma.

Application Instructions for High School Guest Registrants

Step One

Application Instructions for High School Guest Registrants

*NOTE Students who have completed a Math course in the Fairfax County Guest Registrant Program in Spring 2012 need not apply. Please begin with Step Two (page 5).

We at George Mason University are excited that you have chosen to apply to this very selective program. Congratulations on taking the first step of a three step process! You will apply, register and make payment with this guide.

These instructions will give you a step-by-step explanation of how to apply for the Mason/Fairfax County Math program. It should be understood that though these are guidelines for applying to the program, they are not intended to tell you what to fill out in each portion of the application. If you have a difficulty on any portion of the application, you may email Non-Degree Admissions at nondegree@gmu.edu or call them at (703) 993-9125 during regular business hours Monday-Friday.

1. Go to <http://admissions.gmu.edu/applynow/> to begin the online application
2. Click the link "Apply for Undergraduate Studies".
3. First time users will click on the "Create Account" button on the right side of the page to register.
4. After your account is created and you have your user name and password, you will be returned to the Welcome page – enter your user name and password under "User Login" to begin the application.

After completing the 4 steps above, you will be logged in to the application. For the most part, these sections are self-explanatory. After you fill in the information for each section, click "SAVE" to identify any errors, then click "SAVE & CONTINUE" to move forward in the application. The computer system will alert you if there are any missing portions of that page. The instructions below will guide you through the different sections.

The first page of the application after logging in will read "Click below to begin creation of your George Mason University application..."

Below the bullets listed "Freshman, Transfer and Non-degree studies" is a link to the "Undergraduate Application". Below the link shows the status of the application in progress. To start the application, click the link.

To begin filling out the different fields of the application, locate the link to "Application/Course of Study" along the left side of the page under the header "Basic Admissions Application."

As a special agreement with Fairfax County Schools, George Mason has agreed to waive application fees for this program. Please select the "Collegeboard Fee Waiver" option to waive your application fee.

You must complete the Certification and both sections of the Virginia In-State Tuition Application.

After all sections have been completed, click on "Check Your Application". If your application status is ready for submission, follow the steps to completion.

Once you have submitted the application, you will need to submit an official high school transcript. Please ask your Guidance Counselor to send your transcript to:

George Mason University
Non-Degree Admissions
4400 University Drive, MS 3A4
Fairfax, VA 22030

A faxed copy of the transcript will also suffice if sent directly from your high school guidance counselor. The fax should be sent to 703-993-2392 to the attention of Non-Degree Admissions.

Once all documents have been received, the Office of Admissions will issue a decision on your application which you will receive via postal mail. The letter will contain your Mason student identification number (your "G" number) and some basic registration instructions.

As a final reminder, being accepted to take this one course does not imply or have impact upon any future application to courses or programs at Mason. This program is part of a special agreement with Fairfax County Public Schools.

Good luck in all of your academic endeavors!

Certification and Honor Code

Students opting to enroll for dual-enrollment credit must obtain a grade of C or higher in Multivariable Calculus (MATH 213) to enroll in the next course in the sequence.

By registering for classes, students accept responsibility for all tuition. Students are responsible for dropping all classes they do not plan to complete, via the Patriot Web System (see Step Two, Number Twelve), by the dates listed above. Classes are not dropped for nonpayment.

Honor Code: George Mason University shares the tradition of an honor system that has existed in Virginia since 1842. The Honor Code is an integral part of university life, and it is the student's responsibility to understand the provisions of the code. Cheating, plagiarism, lying, and stealing constitute Honor Code violations. In the spirit of the code, students and faculty must report all violations to the Honor Committee.

I have read the Honor Code and understand my Financial and Academic Responsibilities. Furthermore, I certify that I will apply to receive credit by the deadline of Sept. 14, 2012, and request my transcripts be sent for dual enrollment credit. I will register and pay for my course by Sept. 24, 2012 to avoid late charges:
