

Some Interesting Classes of Convex Polytopes

Jim Lawrence, George Mason University, Fairfax VA – 22030

Abstract

We will delineate three (approximately) interesting (at least to the speaker) classes of convex polytopes that have received scant attention elsewhere. Also, the important notion of the "polarity matrix" of a polytope having a specified center will be described.

Keywords: polytopes, polarity